Organizes the National Conference on:

"Foreign Trade under Global
Transformations: Legal and Economic Challenges"

On: October 15, 2026

Conference Theme:

The international trade system is experiencing continuous changes, as a result of multiple factors, including the global economic and political changes, market volatility, breakdowns in global chain networks, the accelerated technological innovations and the gradual transition from the traditional economic system to the digital economy. Whether in terms of the cross-border trade in goods and services, the effectiveness of trade policies and the regulatory legal rules, or the competitiveness of the products in the international markets.

It has become imperative to reassess the policies, regulatory measures and legal frameworks governing the foreign trade, to ensure the stability of import and export operations, enhance the competitiveness of the national economy and keeping pace with the global developments and the requirements of sustainability and digital innovation.

Conference Preblomatic :

To what extent have the national legal and economic policies adapted the global transformations in the import and export sector, and how can they achieve the balance between facilitating trade, protecting the national economy and enhancing the competitiveness of exports?

Conference Objectives

The present scientific conference has been organized to foster in-depth academic discussion on the legal and economic challenges facing the foreign trade in a rapidly global trading transformation and to provide practical and forward-looking solutions that inform policymakers and economic stakeholders to improve the efficiency and sustainability of foreign trade operations. The primary objectives of this conference are to:

1. To analyze how global transformations are reshaping import and export activities.
2. To evaluate the adequacy and the effectiveness of the national and international legal and regulatory frameworks governing the foreign trade.
3. To identify the legal and economic challenges faced by the stakeholders in the foreign trade.
4. To highlight the role of digitalization and technical innovation in facilitating the foreign trade operations.
